BOARD OF EDUCATION HELD MEETING

At a meeting of the Haliburton County Board of Education, on February 29, 1972, Mrs. Helen McCracken, present Chef's Helper at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School was appointed Chef. The members are pleased that Mrs. McCracken will provide a continuity at the Cafeteria, following the resignation of a fine employee, Mr. Mark Schell, and are confident she will do a good job.

It was also decided to make a change in the Kindergarten policy for the 1972-73 school year. Commencing September, 1972, Kindergarten instruction will be on a full day basis, every other school day. This means that in Minden and Haliburton one Kindergarten class will come one day and the second class will come on the alternate day. At Cardiff, where there is one class, it will be operated every other day. This change will result in a saving of approximately $30,000 per year in transportation costs.

MITES WIN FIRST GAME OF KAWARTHA FINALS

The Minden Mites defeated the Bobcaygeon Mites 2-1 last Wednesday to advance into the finals against Oakwood.

The Bobcaygeon team scored first in the first period and it appeared that they would win the game by a 1-0 score. However, at the five minute mark of the third period Harold Porter finally came through for Minden with the tying goal. Harold added the insurance goal later in the period on a pass from Joe McMinn.

The first star of the game had to go to young Mike Hatkoski, as he kept the Minden team in the game until they could get untracked and score. Joe McMinn and Stanley Baker were outstanding on defence as well for Minden.

On Sunday afternoon in Haliburton the Minden team playing their first game of the final against OPS, clobbered them to the tune of 8-0. Harold Porter had three goals for Minden, while Scott Arbuthnot and Brent Moxam picked up two goals each. The eighth goal went to Lenny Blaskovich.

This was the tenth game of the season for goalie Mike Hatkoski and the shut-out against OPS was his fifth and lowered his goals against average to .40. The second game in the best of three series is in Oakwood on Wednesday Mar. 8. The third if necessary will also be in Oakwood next weekend.

THURSDAY SMILE

Two little girls were discussing their families. "Why does your Grandmother read the Bible so much?" asked one. Replied the other, "I think she's cramming for her finals."

RED CROSS CELEBRATES 25TH ANNIVERSARY

The Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary on January 21, 1972 with commemoration ceremonies in Vancouver, British Columbia, the site of the first Red Cross blood depot.

Today any Canadian in need of blood can be sure blood will be there in the quantities and type he needs at no cost to himself. Before the Blood Transfusion Service was founded in 1947 this was not the case. Then a patient had to either pay for blood (normally $25.00 per unit) or arrange for its replacement by friends or relatives on the basis of two units of blood for each unit he received.

In 1945 the Canadian Red Cross proposed a new idea for universal free blood in Canada. A survey was taken in hospitals from coast to coast. Results showed that most hospitals were without adequate stocks of whole blood, plasma or serum, and that many were having trouble in obtaining enough blood donors.

The Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service opened its first depot in Vancouver on January 21, 1947. Even more than providing adequate blood stocks and transfusion equipment to all hospitals in Canada, the Red Cross undertook the collection of blood from volunteer donors; the stimulation of co-operative research and improvement of undergraduate and post-graduate instruction in blood transfusion therapy, the provision of free technical advice and assistance to the medical profession concerning the RH factor. The Blood Transfusion Service's coverage has been nationwide since 1959. There are now 16 blood depots across Canada.

Doctor George W. Miller, National Director of the Blood Transfusion Service, highlighted some of the advances made since the Blood Transfusion Service began.

He said, 'Use of plastic blood packs—much more convenient for storage and shipping than glass bottles—is nearly universal today. Long term low temperature preservation of blood is now possible. Until the late 1960's it was common surgical practice to administer only whole blood to a patient. Now a patient usually receives a specific blood component suited to his needs. With the use of component therapy, one unit of blood can benefit as many as four patients. Automation is now used to carry out certain laboratory tests, and computerization has simplified the maintenance of accurate and complete blood donor records.'

Doctor Miller also stressed the important role which the individual blood donor plays in the complex workings of the Blood Transfusion Service. He explained that science has found many ways to improve the use of blood and blood products, but that science had not yet found a substitute for human blood.

Doctor Miller said, 'As the Blood Transfusion Service celebrates its twenty-fifth anniversary nationwide, we acknowledge the vital importance of people who take the time to give their blood. Without voluntary blood donors the anniversary of the Blood Transfusion Service would not be possible.'

ADELAIDE DANIELS

SAYS

ARE YOU A WISE SNACKER?

Snacking has become one of the great national indoor sports. And according to nutritionists here and across the border, there's grave danger that history will prove it to have been one of the worst health hazards of the second half of the 20th century.

Combine hours of inactivity such as sitting in front of the TV set with nibbling on anything from potato chips to chocolates — and it's easy to understand why so many people today pile on pounds while their energy and well-being diminish.

There must be an answer to the problem, if our national fitness is to be preserved. So it becomes the responsibility of every single person to see that, if we must snack, it will be on foods that don't add unwanted pounds but do provide important nutrients.

First foods to fall casualty to a programme for controlling weight while snacking, are candies, potato chips, and the kind of snack that is low in nutrition — especially those with added fat and sugar.

Crackers with cheese spreads, or nuts, have the advantage of providing protein — but they're so high in calories that, if you use them steadily, you're sure to see your weight increasing.

High on the list of desirable snack-time foods are crisp raw vegetables of almost every kind. Celery, fingers of cucumbers, cauliflowerettes, radishes, green pepper sticks — these can be kept in jars in the refrigerator for anytime enjoyment.

You'll find mushrooms an excellent alternative. So are such canned vegetables as wax beans, asparagus and bean sprouts.

Fruits, especially raw ones, are excellent. If you tend to put on weight, however, be wary of grapes, of bananas or apples in quantity, and of sweet cherries.

Don't forget the satisfaction and enjoyment of a bowl of bouillon. If you keep beef or chicken bouillon cubes or cordial on hand, you can have it ready at a flick of the wrist. Black coffee, hot or iced, is another good idea — so is clear hot or iced tea. And of course, chilled tomato or fruit juice makes another snack that provides important food value with few calories.

Milk is one of your best snacks, so long as it is used within the limits of your total food needs. Make it skim rather than whole, if you want to cut calories.

Snacking on such foods as I suggest has advantages beyond keeping your weight and well-being in line. It keeps you from spoiling your appetite for regular meals, and discourages falling asleep in the middle of a favorite programme.

BIG GAME CASUALTIES IN 71

A total of 250 white-tailed deer and one moose were reported killed by means other than legal hunting in 1971 in the Lindsay District. Of the deer killed 59 were killed by vehicles on roads, 52 by wolves, 63 by dogs, 22 by poachers, 23 by miscellaneous means such as drowning, starvation, entanglement in fences etc. The cause of death could not be established for the remaining 31 kills. Cause of death of the only moose kill was also unknown.

Records show that the number of deer killed on roads was the lowest since 1967. Rising cost of repairs, however, resulted in the 1971 total damage estimate of $7,295.00 and the average of $429.11 being the highest ever recorded.

The number of deer killed by dogs was the highest ever as a result of adverse snow conditions last winter.

More deer were reported killed by wolves, poachers, starvation and causes unknown than ever before but this may have been due to intensive ground searches of wintering areas made during the spring population and mortality census.

For this reason plus the high 'kill' by dogs the total number of deer killed in 1971 was the highest since records began in 1959. The previous record was 131 in 1970.

Look At The Dealer Too!

Buying a new snowmobile—or a used one for that matter—is like buying a car: You probably have one or two brands in mind because of the reputation of the maker or the machines. So you "go lookin'" at the dealers, checking model features and appearance. And you consider prices and "the deals" offered.

Natural enough.

Considering the short history of this new sport, however, the recreation experts at Mercury snowmobiles suggest that you go a step further—and carefully look at the dealers too!

There are thousands of fine dealers for all brands across Canada and the States, of course. But, for your own protection, ask yourself . . .

Can the dealer provide adequate service? Remember, a dealer cannot provide good service without trained, conscientious people.

Does he maintain adequate parts? The best machines suffer wear and damage. And you do not want to wait for repairs, just because your dealer never orders a part from the factory until you need it.

Is he favorably known in your community? A successful history in any business—especially if it involves small engines, boats and motors, cycles or lawnmowers—probably indicates he will serve snowmobilers well also.

But remember, despite the best efforts of manufacturers, the huge growth of snowmobiling has attracted many dealers "here today—gone tomorrow!" In short, know your snowmobile dealer—and be sure he plans to stay in business—for you!

DOLLARS AND GOOD SENSE

by William J. Martin

Mr. Martin serves as special consultant to Avco Financial Services. All questions should be sent to him at P.O. Box 5875, London Ontario, Canada. Those containing a name and address will be answered in this column or by direct return mail. No names will be used in print.

Today I'll continue my look at women workers in the U.S. and report on some of the employment characteristics of the 31- and one half million working women which make up about 40 percent of the total labor force.

Typically a women will enter the working ranks after completing school and will leave a few years later when she marries or has a child. After her children have grown, she either re-enters the labor force or becomes active in community activities.

The return of the mature woman has been a key factor in the tremendous increase in the number of women workers recently. In 1970, half of all women between the ages of 35 and 64 were in the labor force compared to about 25 percent in 1940.

About 7 out of 10 working women hold full-time jobs at some time of the year, but only 40 percent work full time all year. Women are apt to be white-collar workers, but their jobs are usually less skilled and less well paid than those of men. Women are more likely to be clerical workers and less likely to be managers and officials according to the government statistics.

Women's annual earnings are substantially lower than those of men. Much of this difference is caused by part-year employment, however. Among fully employed working women earnings are still less than men on the average primarily because of different types of jobs and job levels.

Median earnings for women workers are $4,977. Among job categories, salaries range from $3,755 for service workers to $7,309 for professional and technical workers. Working wife's contributions to family income was more than one-fourth overall, and three-eighths for full-time, full-year workers.

A shortage of skilled workers in certain professional, technical, clerical and service occupations plus recent legislation barring discrimination in employment on the basis of sex should open up new opportunities for working women.

All factors point to a continuation of the trend toward increased labor force participation of women.

WOODLANDS IMPROVEMENT

This Department, as you may know, has a program under the Woodlands Improvement Act of Ontario whereby we undertake to improve woodlots and abandoned farmland. Until recently in the Lindsay District our program has been designed primarily for the production of a future crop of timber. We have done this by improvement of existing stands of trees and by planting of open land. We are now interested in the improvement of woodlots for the production of maple syrup and related products and are currently signing agreements with private landowners for this purpose.

SPORTS CORNER

with CLIFF BURKE

The Minden Novices ended their season last week when they dropped their third straight play-off game to Haliburton 6 - 2. After the Minden team took the opener of the best of five semi-final series 7 - 4, they seemed to fall into a slump that they never recovered from. Brian Shaw and Paul McKenzie scored the goals for Minden.

The Novices should be congratulated for a fine season, which ended on a 27 - 6 - 4 won-lost-tie record.

Three of the outstanding players over the season for the Novices were: Brian Shaw 34 goals and 13 assists for 47 points, Mike Bird, the outstanding goalie who registered seven shut-outs in the 27 games the Novices played, for a fine 2.07 goals against average; Tom Gough 27 goals and 18 assists for 45 points. Congratulations to these players on a great season.

The Novice club have one more outing, this Saturday they play in a tournament in Fenelon Falls.

Winners of last weeks Rockcliffe Hotel tournament were Doug Robinson and Paul Warburton.

Last weeks winners of the Dominion Hotel tournament were Aubrey Maxwell and Holly Harrison. With just five weeks left in the Dominion Hotel Tournament, there are five players fighting it out for the championship. Bud Anderson who holds first place at the present time with 29 points, is closely followed by Wilf Ackerblade and Hugh Austen with 25 points. Paul Warburton has 22 points, and the hottest player of the last two weeks Holly Harrison has 21 points, seven in the last two weeks.

Congratulations to Pat Dudman who is this weeks winner of the Minor Hockey Pool of $25.00.

The Rod & Gun Club will hold another Stew Dinner and Dance on Saturday March 18th starting at 5:30 p.m. The Club has engaged a surprise Orchestra from out of town, and it promises to be a good one. Lets have a real great turn out for this the last Dance of the season by the Rod & Gun. The one two weeks ago was a real success, lets make this one an even greater success.

The following people and players of this years Minor Hockey are my choices for most Valuable player - coach - manager awards for the year 1971-72. Coach Larry Kent; Manager Jim Shaw; Midgets (tie) Wayne Harrison and John Welch; Bantams Doug Ray; Peewee 'A' Peter McKenzie; Peewee 'B' Kevin Newell; Novice Brian Shaw; Mite, Harold Porter.

With two weeks left in the regular season of the Minden Men's Bowling league it appears that Swann's Electric, for the second year in a row will be the league champions. However there is still some question as to who will finish second. C.G.L. who now holds down second place has been in a slump for the past six weeks and have taken only seven points of a possible 36. Modern Electric and Miles Road Runners on the other hand have been playing above average bowling, and both have a chance of taking second.

Three leagues in the Curling are now in the play-offs. The Ladies league has been playing for two weeks now and finds Phyllis Campbell undefeated at this time. The Thursday and Friday mixed leagues started their play-off games last week with the following taking first round victories. On Thursday evening the winners were Thomas Deacon, McKnight, and Hall. Friday night winners: McGee, Hodgkinson, Brintnell and Campbell.

Drive through zoo would be great

by Al Greir

When someone goes all the way to New York City on his own time and at his own expense to further develop tourism in Haliburton County, he must feel very strong about a certain project. Such was the case last weekend when Ted Campbell, Secretary-

Manager of the Haliburton Chamber of Commerce, flew to New York to talk about a Drive Through Zoo for this county.

Drive Through Zoos are the up-and-coming big attractions in the United States, and many other parts of the world, and it is felt by the Chamber of Commerce here, if this county could develop one it would boost the tourist flow by thousands. One important aspect of Drive Through Zoos is they are open year round to the public.

The purpose of the trip to New York was to see the people in the business of developing this type of Zoo, and convince them that our area here was ripe for such a project. One does not go ahead and build a Zoo of this nature on their own, it is a large undertaking and costs in the hundreds of thousands of dollars, even millions. The animals themselves must be purchased through Animal Management Services, Inc., the company, which Mr. Campbell was dealing with in New York. Animal Management Services, Inc., have an office set up at their newest site in West Milford New Jersey, where Mr. Dan Brennan, Executive Vice President and chief operating officer is presently undertaking the development of "Jungle Habitat". This new Drive Through Zoo is a tropical rain forest filled with the chirping of exotic birds, plants from many different countries and animals from all corners of the earth, it takes in some 450 acres. This commercial wildlife preserve covers half of the 900 acres, purchased at two million dollars six months ago, and will contain over 2,000 animals, including elephants, giraffes, monkeys, rhinoceroses and Bengal tigers.

This preserve will be one of the largest, most expensive ($10 million to build) and it will bring the people by the hundreds of thousands to an animal world, not a Zoo. There will be drive-through tours covering four miles of paved road, plus an animal survival shelter, picnic area and "foot Safari".

"The people who drive through will be the only caged creatures in the area," said Brian Hunt, company president. "We want to preserve as much land and wildlife on this planet as we can. We hope that enough people will take tours of this preserve to greatly increase the public's desire for better conservation and ecology. We need them both badly."

When the wildlife preserve opens on June 15 it will be completely enclosed by a 14-foot high fence and manned by 50 guards who will be stationed at various points throughout the scenic area to prevent any trouble — by animals or people. They will be armed with both bullet and tranquilizer rifles.

The preserve will have enough birds to rank as one of the five largest aviaries in the world, with birds from North and South America, Australia, Southeast Asia and Africa. All predatory animals — like tigers and lions will be separated from others by moats. There will be no cages, warm shelters will be available for the animals who choose to use them.

The company will also re-create an African village which will be one of the drive-through highlights. Rhinoceroses and zebras will roam with giraffes in the African plains that will be built in West Milford, 8,000 miles from Mount Kilimanjaro.

This company, whose executives file expense accounts from the Sahara to Andes, runs several animal preserves classified as "foot safaris," where people walk through an area populated by various wild animals, usually small animals and deer.

It runs a large preserve similar to, but smaller than, the one planned for West Milford, in Dallas Texas. That preserve has been open one year and has drawn 750,000 visitors. It has less land and only 1,200 animals. This company has foot safaris in Ontario, Warwick, R.I., and a smaller drive through park in Clinton, Ohio. At every park the animals have adapted easily to their new environment.

At the West Milford Zoo, the company hopes to employ over 100 local residents as guards, shopkeepers for the several exotic shops to open and maintenance people. Admission for the park will range between $1 for children and $3 for adults.

Animal Management Services, Inc., was formed to develop and operate drive-through game preserves and animal survival centres, according to Brian Hunt, Board Chairman and President of the company. This company is a branch of Warner Bros. Seven Arts Productions.

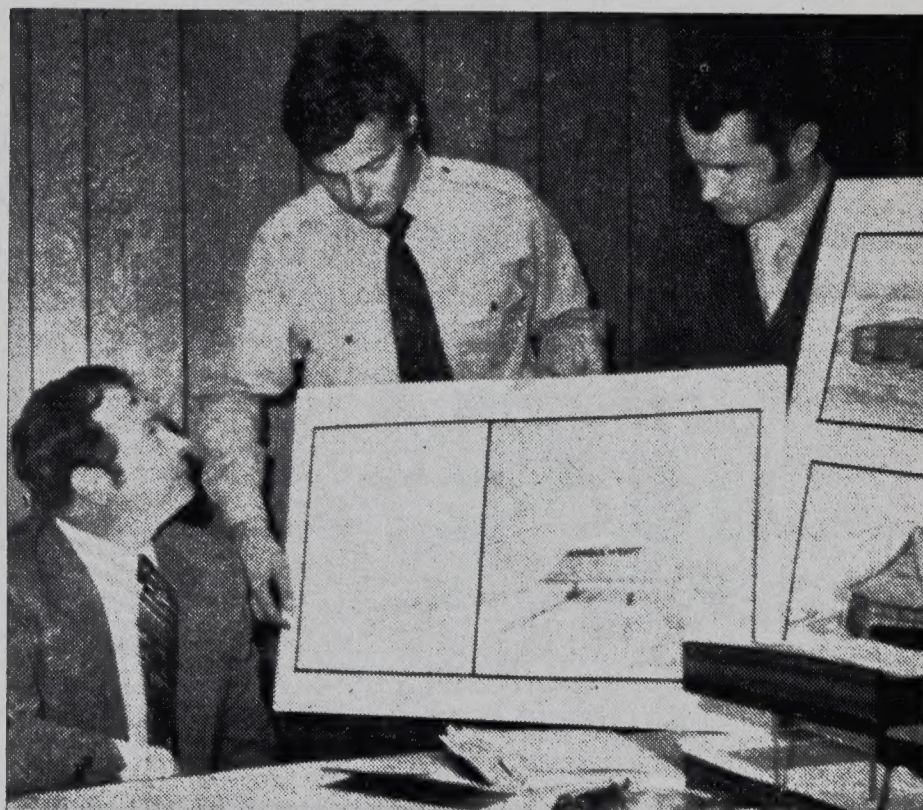

Dan Brennan, is a specialist in the design and operation of amusement complexes with emphasis on the display of wild game. Mr. Brennan has additional duties, including the evaluation of sites for new parks.

Animal Management Services, Inc., has under construction, or in the planning stage, game preserves in locations as diverse as Africa, West Germany, and Hawaii. Several locations in the United States are also being considered.

It is this companies hope to open ten new parks in the next five years — all that is necessary is the land and money availability and of course the population to make it a paying proposition. The trip to New York must be mer-

Looking over a scale topographic mock-up of the 900 acre site in New Jersey are Pat Johnson (left) Operations Assistant Chief and Ted Campbell Secretary Manager of the Haliburton Chamber of Commerce. The land values have shot from $2,500 per acre to $38,000 per acre in a little over a year. This development has created $100,000.00 of new construction in the immediate area.

Dan Brennan, Executive Vice President of Warner Bros. Jungle Habitat explains the on-site buildings to be located in the park. All buildings will be of authentic African design, including all restaurants and visitor picnic areas.

at attraction for Haliburton County and classified as a success, for Mr. Brennan, through the information given him by Mr. Campbell about our area, has been convinced enough to make a trip here within the next two months. He will make a feasibility study on the area, and from there it is up to the Chamber to promote the land and money for such a park.

Of course this area can not afford a park with 900 acres and a construction cost of 10 million dollars, but it can certainly come up with 200 acres and backers with some three hundred thousand dollars. This size of park, said Mr. Brennan sounds like the size needed for your area. These drive-through Zoos are a lucrative business, paying off capital investment in five years.

It is my feeling the Chamber should work hard on this project, and have everything lined up for Mr. Brennan when he arrives. A committee should be set up to pick land sites, and eight to ten backers should be sought out, and ready, if Mr. Brennan thinks this area could support such a park. Mr. Campbell has done the leg work to get this extremely busy man to visit our county, the Chamber should not let this opportunity slip by them.

A drive-through Zoo for Haliburton County could mean nothing more than a tremendous boost to the tourist trade on a year round basis, and employment for many local residents.

A friendly monkey, just one of the 2,000 species of animals soon to be calling home — New Jersey U.S.A. This little boy certainly looks happy.

Three friendly prides of lions are among the spectators as a car or "people cage" proceeds slowly through the park. Wouldn't this be a great attraction for Haliburton County?

ABOUT THE TOWN

With Jeanne Sears

The Ontario and Federal Governments have decided to build their new Airport near Broghm on Highway 7, this to cost about one billion dollars. This Airport will relieve the crowding at Malton but we wonder how the residents in that area will like the noise from Jets landing and taking off.

Sincere sympathy to the family and friends of the late Mrs. E. A. Rogers whose funeral was Tuesday.

At the L.O.B.A. Card Party last week winners were high and lone hand Audrey Vick and other winners Pearl Cowan, Charles Stevens, and Norm Graham and for cribbage Clarence Pipher. After the games all enjoyed a social half hour and the delicious lunch served by the ladies.

Newfoundland has not yet settled the difficulty of a majority for their government and are calling an election later this month. Hope the results of this election settle this problem.

Patients at the local hospital early this week were George Kendall, Jim Cox, Alfred Cox Terri-lyn Anderson, Mrs. Verla Hogg, Mrs. Kirsten Stange; at Princess Margaret is Alvin Palmer and a new arrival for Norma and Neil Burk is a baby girl.

Hint of the week — To fix soup for a child's lunch, pour boiling water in thermos and add soup, time you have had your coffee give it a stir and cover, no messy pan left to clean too.

Mrs. Ray Hyde and family are moving to join Ray at their residence at Brussels. We will all miss them but our loss is that community's gain.

At the Mini Card Party at the Parish Hall last Thursday afternoon winners were for cribbage (with perfect score) Joyce Hewitt and Lilian Davidson and for euchre yours truly and Mae MacArthur.

We heard over the weekend that at some plants, the young men who have hair over their collars will have to wear hair nets. What next!

My work-bench is a window sill,
Floors to be polished — meals to cook
With now and then a stolen peep

A hurried Glance for well I know

On Saturday, March 11th CBC Radio's OUR NATIVE LAND will originate from Whitehorse, Yukon, site of the second annual Arctic Winter Games. Native participants will be featured on the broadcast along with interviews with some of the members of the Yukon Native Brotherhood, an organization formed to represent natives of the Yukon.

Erin Thomas, an able seaman on the HMS Boston, kept a journal of his voyage to Newfoundland and back to England in 1794-95. Published in 1968, it is witty and entertaining account of Newfoundland at that time. The Bush And The Salon, on March 11th, will present Alan King's production of A Newfoundland Journal with Gillie Fenwick in the role of Erin Thomas.

CBC Radio's NHL HOCKEY broadcast on March 12th will feature the game between the Toronto Maple Leafs and the Minnesota North Stars from the Metropolitan Sports Center in Bloomington. Leafs are currently in a battle for a play-off position, so this should amount to a good, fast and exciting game that all hockey fans will want to hear.

The year 1928 saw the birth of the Academy Awards. It was also the year that Herbert Hoover crushed Al Smith in the American Presidential election and Jolson's The Jazz Singer was a sensational hit. Remember When, on March 12, takes you back to recall these and other events of 1928.

The 1972 CBC Talent Festival competition continues on Music-scope Thursday, March 16th. A program will also feature a recital by pianist Arthur Ozolins.

The CBC has won five Ohio State Awards, four of them for radio programs, in the 1972 international educational broadcasting competition sponsored annually by Ohio State University. The CBC Radio winners included two productions of the network's schools and youth department, a program in the Sunday Supplement series, and a Between Ourselves program.
